The BC Bereavement Helpline and Abbotsford Hospice Society are hosting a two-day training session for individuals and professionals looking to run an eight week traumatic death (i.e. homicide, suicide, and substance use) grief support group. This will build upon the individual's pre-existing skill-set and introduce topics specific to facilitation and traumatic loss. Attendees will receive a facilitator manual and certificate of completion.

Full payment reserves your space in the program and can be made via cheque, e-transfer, or PayPal (call for details). Cancellations fully refunded up to Oct. 18th, after which cancellations will result in credit for the next training.

This session will be facilitated by Jessica Lowe, Program Manager at BCBH. Jessica has lived experience with traumatic loss and has facilitated both homicide and suicide grief support groups.

Space is limited. To register, or for more information, contact us at 604-738-9950, email contact@bcbh.ca, or visit our website at bcbh.ca.

We reserve the right to cancel workshops if minimum registration numbers are not met; in the event that we elect to cancel a workshop, a full refund will be issued.

We acknowledge the financial assistance of the Province of British Columbia.

Thank you to Abbotsford Hospice Society for providing space for this event.
