Being with others who have experienced a similar loss has proven to break isolation and create long-term networks of support. Support groups provide a safe, non-judgemental, compassionate environment for family and friends to share their stories and learn essential grief and mourning survival tools to integrate into their daily lives.

In this closed support group we strive to help co-survivors connect with others who share some of the same experiences of this terrible loss. Co-facilitated by a homicide survivor, the design of the group is to help participants connect with the living memory of their person.

An intake conversation is required prior to registration. Please talk with one of our Helpline volunteers at 604-738-9950 or email contact@bcbh.ca.
